From: Mario Apollon / A concerned Haitian American citizen

To: All my Friends, Supporters, & members of the community

Needless to say that the Haitian Diaspora is no longer what it used to be 30 years ago. Thanks to the hard work of our predecessors who have settled across the nation, our brothers and sisters are no longer refugees who are desperate to put food on the table. Our aspiration has passed beyond hunger & poverty. We are now professionals with bigger dreams, vision and aspiration to take part of the American dream.

We become doctors, lawyers, businessmen, educators, and politicians just to name a few. As we move on to the social ladder, we become more eager to change the negative stereotype that has been followed us for decades.

The current negative images and division in our community are heartbreaking. We felt so ashamed and surprised to see how we were being misrepresented for many years.

We are now at a crossroad and can't afford to be divided, self centered, and egocentric any longer. It is now the time to get involved and change the course of our destiny. If we're serious about helping Haiti, let's start with the Haitian Diaspora.

Let's start with the November 4th election and especially with the Florida Legislature. A better representation in District 108 will empower and give us, once more, the much needed voice in the rebuilding process of our community.

We do have a candidate that can represent us and better articulate our political agenda. Yes we have Cedon Saintil Jr...

Cedon has an impressive track record as a public servant. A pastor that is truly committed and sensitive to those who are less privileged. As a concerned Haitian American citizen, I call upon your goodwill to put our differences aside for the betterment of the Haitian Diaspora and eventually our homeland, and abroad.

Cedon saintil Jr. is the right candidate and that is why we need to support him. I urge you my friend(s) to reach out and come to this special Fundraising on Friday October 3 from 7:00PM at the campaign headquarter (8101 NW 7 AV Miami, FL 33150.

Your contribution and donation can make a big difference in the campaign to elect Cedon Saintil, Jr. for House representative district 108.

Enclosed is the invitation flyer with the details.
